

Internship Programme @ Google

Google's mission is to organize the world's information and make it universally accessible and useful. While we're still committed to building the perfect search engine, our work here goes well beyond delivering accurate search results. The spirit of innovation and entrepreneurship that made our company a success right from the start remains strong to this day. That's why people who work here often compare Google to a start-up - only with resources. We provide our employees with the means and the flexible corporate structure they need to forge Google's future, and their own.

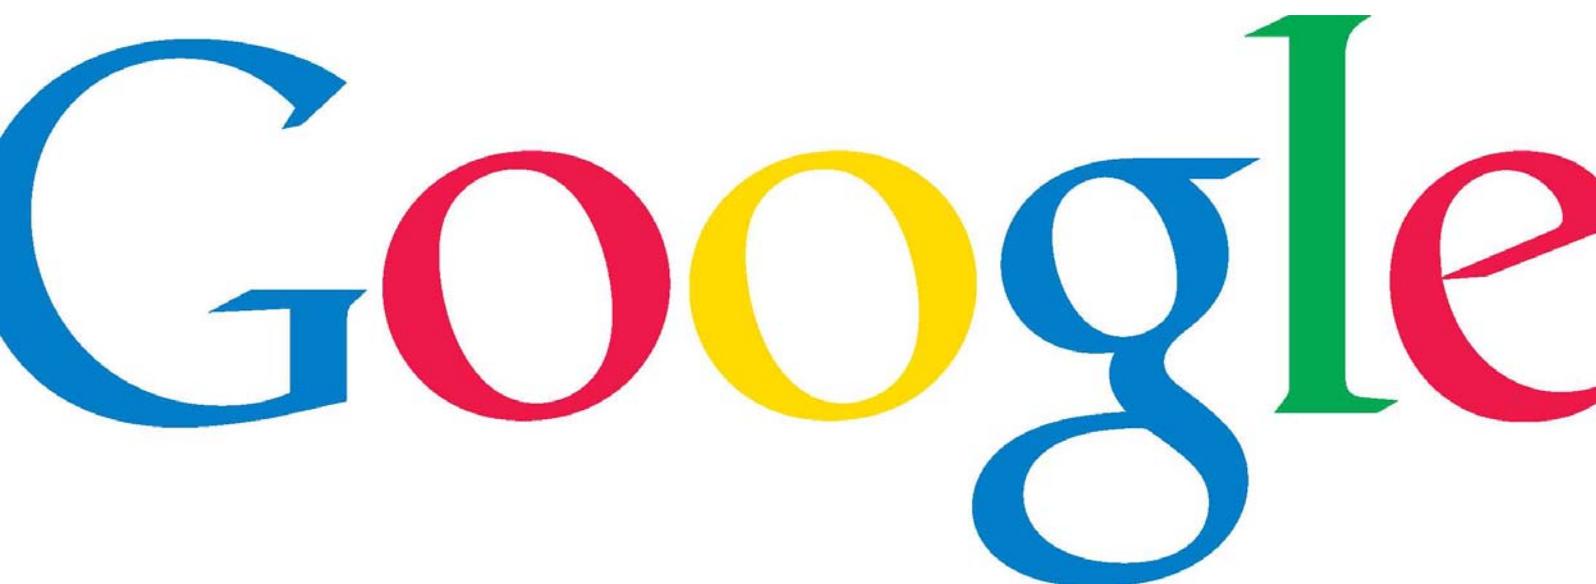

Being an Intern at Google means being a fully integrated member of our business team for 10-12 weeks (or possible longer) starting this Summer / early Autumn.

Interns receive ongoing mentorship and training as part of their program with us. You will be assigned a host who will work closely with you to help identify project goals and support your professional development. For those interns joining us in June/July, our intern program involves a series of educational talks, social activities, intern competitions and a European intern conference. Oh, and the internship is paid...

At present, we have internship opportunities for students pursuing all kinds of degrees in our EU Headquarters in Dublin and in our office in Milan. Applicants must have at least one semester left of their bachelor- or master programme. Positions are available in our Online Sales & Operations, Direct Sales, and Product Marketing teams, working with various aspects of search marketing.
